US Indifferent About Airmen, Peking Claims Airmen, Peking Claims
LONDON, Monday (Reuter). —
The official New China News Agency yesterday charged the U.S. with lack of concern for the 11 American airmen imprisoned by the Chinese.
It said that while the Chinese Government had expressed willingness to allow relatives to visit the airmen, "the U.S. Government is -trying to prevent them from coming to China."
This attitude was neither "strange nor unexpected" and showed that the U.S. Government "is not really concerned about the convicted personnel, but is creating tension to cover up its aggressive acts against China."

"Al Hamishmar" (Mapam) believes that there is a connection between the internal struggle in the Arab League and the renewal of attacks on the Israel border. The paper criticisus the abstention of the Chairman of the Israel-Jordan Mixed Armietice Commission and demands defence measures against murderers sent here from the neighbouring countries. "Lamerhav" (Ahdut Avoda) comments on the murder of the Druze soldier last Friday. The common ties between the Jews and the minorities in Israel, & feels, will grow and deepen as the result of many nights of standing guard together.

"Zmanim" (Progressive) also sees a connection between events in the Arab League and the new attacks. The Syrian and Jordan rulers wish to show the opposition that their anti-Israel seet has not slackened. The paper expresses the hope that our belief in the objectivity of the Truce Supervision Organization will not be undermined Similar developments in the past forced Israel to look for a remedy of the situation elsewhere.

"Hatsofe" (Werld Misrahl Union) demands that the four Israel soldiers should be released from the Syrian prison. It thinks that not all the necessary pressure has been exerted on the Syrians and criticires the stand of the U.N observers in the Agur case. The paper also doubts whether the present line of selfrestraint will continue for long in the face of such attacks and provocation.

"WITNESS to Murder"

(Or gill, Jerusalem) is a thriller about how easy it is to land in the looney bin especially for a progressive ladypainter if one looks into other people's windown. The suspense is expertly built up until it elimanes into a hackneyed chase which is disappointing because it proves that even the script-writers did not know how to unmask the murderer by the accepted methods of detaction. As so often in such productions, the supporting cast excels the performance of the stars (Barbara Starwyck, George Sanders, Gary Merill). The scene in the mental ward is a cabinet piece. The moral: he who lives in a built-up area should draw the curtains when entertaining a female visitor, even if not intending to murder same.

Presumably some light will be thrown on this in the coming Budget speech, and in the Treasury's explanatory texts, but it is to be regretted that no authoritative Economic Survey, on the British pattern, is published as an introduction to the Budget debate in order to enable the Knesset and the public to recognize more clearly the economic and social issues behind the proposed revenue and expenditure figures.

On the information available, this domestic stability seems to have been the result, first of all, of the caim and progressive development of world economy and the comparatively stable prices of our import commodities. Moreover, our foreign currency revenue reached a record of about 50 per cent above 1983. This proceeds of exports of goods and another fifth by revenue from Jewish institutions, which was exceptionally high because of the Consolidation Losa.
